Rachael Burrows

 @RachaelBurrows

Rachel Burrows will be making her Paralympic debut this summer in London. She loves the message that the Paralympic Games send, saying “It shows what we as Paralympic athletes are capable of. I suggest to everyone, just watch and you’ll see.” Her success is credited to her positive attitude; always willing to learn something new, push forward to improve and progress.

Burrows was born with cerebral palsy. She was encouraged to participate in Paralympic sports by her father. Burrows first began wheelchair racing when she was 10, and then advanced to international racing at age 16.

Nicknamed Rachie, London will be Burrows’ first Paralympic Games. She has represented Canada at several other international events. At the 2011 Parapan American Games in Guadalajara, Mexico, she finished fourth in the T34 100 metres. Burrows also won a bronze medal at the 2001 CP-ISRA World Games.

Burrows is inspired by her hero and Ottawa Lions teammate Noella Klawitter, a visually impaired athlete. When she’s not training five days a week, Burrows enjoys camping and kayaking.

Josh Cassidy

 @JoshCassidy84

Determination and hard work have gotten Josh Cassidy to where he is today. Knowing that wheelchair racing is about strength and force; the hours he has spent on the track, road and in the gym have allowed Cassidy to become one of Canada's top wheelchair racers.

Cassidy holds the Canadian wheelchair records for the T54 1,500m, 5000m and Marathon. He made his Paralympic Games debut in 2008 in Beijing where his best result was a fourth in his heat in the 5000 metres, and 10th place finish overall.

Just weeks after his birth, Cassidy was diagnosed with neuroblastoma, a cancer in the spine and abdomen. He was given a very low chance of survival but is now preparing to compete in his second Paralympic Games.

In April 2012, Cassidy overcame health and equipment problems to surpass the world fastest time at the Boston Marathon. He covered the 42.195-kilometre course in 1:18:25.00. That eclipsed the old mark of 1:18:27 set by Ernst Van Dyk of South Africa in 2004. Just six days later, Cassidy raced the London Marathon where he placed eighth. He was also in the British capital to help raise funds for a five-year-old girl battling a cancer similar to the one that he had. Cassidy won the London Marathon in 2010.

Cassidy has twice been named the Ontario Wheelchair Sport Association's Male athlete of the year.

Earle Connor

Ever since Earle Connor was a child, he's been determined to be a star athlete. Connor had his left leg amputated just above the knee at three months old. He continued to play sports beside able-bodied athletes and excelled at hockey. Connor was the first player with a disability drafted in the Western Hockey League.

As a Paralympic sprinter, Connor has produced 18 world record performances. At the Beijing 2008 Paralympics he won gold in the 100m in a Games' record 12.32 seconds. That came after setting a world mark of 12.08 seconds at an international meet a few weeks earlier. At the Sydney 2000 Games, Connor won the 100m and finished second in the 200m. He is Canadian Record holder in the T42 100m and 200m.

Connor first noticed the Paralympics when he watched the 100 metres at the Atlanta 1996 Paralympic Games. Two weeks later he competed in his first event, a 60-metre race in Hamilton. He won the race, setting a world record.

In 2003 Connor won the Laureus World Sportsman of the Year with a Disability Award.

Nathan Dewitt

 @NathanJDeWitt

Nathan Dewitt will be making his Paralympic Games debut in London. Dewitt was born with dyplegia cerebral palsy. Doctors told him he wouldn't be able to ride a bike or walk, but he's proven them wrong. At 15 he began playing sledge hockey, which led to other sports like wheelchair basketball, kneeboarding and tennis. At the recommendation of his physiotherapist, Dewitt decided to try wheelchair racing.

At the 2012 Canadian Track and Field Trials in Calgary, Dewitt placed first in the 100m and second in the 200m. He credits his father with teaching him that if he wants to accomplish something, he needs to fight to accomplish it.

Dewitt, who trains seven days a week alternating between the track and gym, also has a twin.

Braedon Dolfo

 @BDolfo93

Braedon Dolfo is very excited to represent Canada at his first Paralympic Games in London this summer. Dolfo developed cataracts and chronic uveitis at age five. He began competing in track and field at age 11, at the suggestion of a doctor at a children's hospital after he developed glaucoma. Dolfo took quickly to athletics events, crediting natural athletic ability and determination.

At the 2011 IPC World Championship, Dolfo won a bronze and set a Canadian record in the F13 high jump. He also anchored the visually-impaired 4x100m relay team to a fourth-place finish. Dolfo represented Canada at the Guadalajara 2011 Parapan American Games in Mexico, where he won a bronze medal in the T13 100m. Dolfo is the Canadian record holder in T13 100m and 200m, records he broke again earlier this year while qualifying for the Canadian Paralympic Team.

Off the track, Dolfo enjoys listening to music. This fall he will attend Trinity Western University and hopes to join the track and field team there to continue to work with his coach Laurier Primeau.

Jason Dunkerley

Jason Dunkerley was born blind and began running in elementary school, but it wasn't until he was in high school that he became serious about competing. After moving to Hamilton from Northern Ireland, Dunkerley attended the W. Ross Macdonald School for Students who are Visually Impaired, Blind and Deafblind, where students were encouraged to get involved in sports.

Dunkerley has represented Canada at three Paralympic Games and with guide Greg Dailey raced to a silver medal in Sydney 2000, a silver in Athens in 2004 and a bronze in Beijing in 2008.

He has also raced at three IPC World Championships, winning gold in 2011 in the 800m, double gold in 2006 in both the 800m and 1500m, and gold in 2002 in the 1500m.

At the 2007 Parapan American Games in Rio, Dunkerley won gold in both the 800m and 1500m. At the 2011 Parapan American Games in Guadalajara, he won a silver medal in the 1500m and a bronze medal in the 5000m.

He is the current Canadian record holder for the T11 800m, 1500m and 5000m.

In London, he will be guided by Joshua Karanja. Dunkerley feels that this new partnership is very beneficial to his training. Dunkerley notes that since Karanja is faster than him, it has increased his speed.

Having a supportive family, friends, coaches, teammates and community is incredibly important to Dunkerley and he is grateful for all of this. He lives in Ottawa, Ont., with his wife Colleen.

His brother, Jon Dunkerley, is also a member of the Para-Athletics team for London 2012.

Jon Dunkerley

Jon Dunkerley was born blind and showed his athletic talents at an early age. At the W. Ross Macdonald School for Students who are Visually Impaired, Blind and Deafblind, he excelled in a variety of sports but focused mainly on swimming and wrestling. In 2006 Dunkerley turned to running when he moved to Ottawa and was paired with guide runner Sean Young. Both share a competitive drive, and thus work extremely well together both on and off the track.

Dunkerley competed at the 2008 Paralympic Games in Beijing, finishing seventh in the 400m. At the 2012 Canadian Track and Field Trials in Calgary, he finished first in the 100m and second in the 400m. Dunkerley currently is the T11 200m Canadian record holder.

His brother Jason is also a runner and member of the Canadian Para-Athletics team for London 2012.

Alexandre Dupont

At the age of 17 Alexandre Dupont lost his right leg in a motorcycle accident. About a year later he watched a wheelchair race from the 2004 Paralympics in Athens, Greece, on television. Dupont decided to try the sport. Thanks to his competitive nature and athletic ability, Dupont has found success and challenge on the track. London will be Dupont's first Paralympics.

Dupont has been part of several previous national teams and competed at the 2011 IPC World Championships in Christchurch, NZL, where he was part of the bronze medal-winning 4x400m relay team.

At the 2012 Canadian Track and Field Trials Dupont was second in the 400m, third in the 1500m, and third in the 5000m. He is the current T54 Canadian record holder in the 100m.

Michel Filteau

Michel Filteau is a veteran wheelchair racer competing in his second Paralympic Games. In 2008 at the Beijing Paralympics, Filteau finished 16th in the marathon.

This year Filteau has had two top podium finishes in Carrozzine in Padova, Italy with a time of 1:28:50, and at Canadian Marathon Championships, Ottawa, Canada, with a time of 1:37:17.

Hard work and countless hours on the road have propelled Filteau to where he is today. Filteau is also the T54 10000m Canadian record holder.

Keira-Lyn Frie

London will be her first Paralympic Games, but Keira-Lyn Frie has already competed at three IWAS world junior championships and two IPC worlds. Making the team for London is a personal victory for Frie, who had lost confidence after having trouble beating her personal best performances for three years.

Frie's career highlights are two sixth-place finishes at the 2010 IPC World Championships, two first-place finishes at the 2012 Canadian Track and Field Trials in the 100m and 200m, five firstplace finishes at the 2011 Canadian Nationals and three golds at the 2009 Canada Games.

A 2004 fall from a rooftop left Frie a paraplegic. After a year of healing, she turned to sport, which she says has taught her she's stronger than she ever thought she could be. Her choice to take up wheelchair racing was made easier since her personal coach Rick Reelie, a former Canadian wheelchair racer, is her neighbour.

Between gym and track sessions, Frie trains nine times a week, with every fourth week a recovery week.

Eric Gauthier

Eric Gauthier is competing in London at his third Paralympic Games. Gauthier is an individual who quietly goes about his business on and off the track, ever cognizant of his surroundings, and above all else is dedicated to making himself and those around him better.

In 2008 in Beijing, Gauthier competed in the T53 400m and 800m. As part of the 2011 4x400 relay team at the IPC World Championships in Christchurch, NZL, he finally found the podium, winning bronze. He is the current T53 800m Canadian Record holder.

He trains in Sherbrooke, Quebec under the direction of coach Jean Laroche.

Andrew Heffernan

Guide runner for Brandon King

In early January 2011, a trip to London for the 2012 Games was not on Andrew Heffernan's radar. On a suggestion of former teammate and roommate, Heffernan has found himself enjoying his time at the track again. A former middle distance runner at the University of Ottawa who was sidelined by injuries, Heffernan is heading to the London Paralympic Games as a guide for Brandon King. The duo started training together in spring 2011, and has found great success and camaraderie.

Heffernan believes sport helps a person better themselves and work harder in every aspect of their life. He was born and raised in Peterborough, Ontario, but lives and trains in Ottawa. He recently graduated from University of Ottawa with a joint honours degree in political science and history. In his spare time Heffernan enjoys all things athletic including hockey, skiing, lacrosse, volleyball, football, camping, kayaking, hiking and swimming.

Joshua Karanja

Guide runner for Jason Dunkerley

Joshua Karanja is a former NCAA track and field steeple chase All-American for Eastern Michigan University whose love for running led him to being a guide for Jason Dunkerley. The two have worked together since the summer of 2011. London will be Karanja's first time representing Canada at the Paralympic Games.

Dunkerley says having a guide who lives in Ottawa is very beneficial to his training. Dunkerley notes that since Karanja is faster than him, it has increased his speed.

Karanja has a Masters of Public Administration degree from Eastern Michigan University. He speaks English, French, Swahili and Kikuyu.

Brandon King

Visually-impaired runner Brandon King will be competing in London at his first Paralympic Games. In 2012, he won both the T12 100m and 200m at the Canadian Track and Field Trials in Calgary. King also won the T12 200m and 400m titles at the 2010 and 2011 national championships. He is the current Canadian record holder in the T12 200m.

At the 2011 Parapan American Games in Guadalajara, Mexico, King finished fourth in the T12 400 metres and eighth in the 100m. He was a member of the 4x100-metre relay team that was fourth at the 2011 IPC World Championships in Christchurch, NZL.

King has moved from his hometown of Brampton to Ottawa in order to live, train and work with guide runner Andrew Heffernan.

Brent Lakatos

Brent Lakatos has always gravitated to high performance. His commitment to excellence and perseverance has led him to be one of Canada's top wheelchair racers. He is thrilled to be heading to London to represent Canada in his third Paralympic Games.

Growing up, Lakatos was a natural athlete, playing hockey, baseball and swimming. At age six a hockey accident left Lakatos paralyzed but he continued to play sport. Lakatos was recruited by the University of Texas where he played wheelchair basketball for four years and helped his team win the 2002 national title. Just eight months prior to the Athens 2004 Paralympic Games, Lakatos switched to wheelchair racing and qualified for the Athens Games. He was a member of the 4x100-metre relay team that finished fourth.

At the Beijing 2008 Paralympics, Lakatos posted two top-six finishes and set a Canadian record in the T53 400m. At the 2011 IPC World Championships in Christchurch, NZL, he won a silver in the T53 200m and bronze in the 100m. Lakatos was a triple medallist at the 2007 IWAS world championships in Taiwan. He is the current Canadian T53 record holder in the 100m, 200m, 400m and 1500m.

A programmer analyst, Lakatos lives in Texas and is married to Paralympic track and field athlete Stefanie Reid of Britain.

Colin Mathieson

Colin Mathieson has been a member of three Paralympic Teams and is no newcomer to high performance sport on the world stage. Mathieson's first Paralympics were the 1996 Games in Atlanta, where he won bronze in the 4x400 relay. At the Sydney 2000 Paralympics, his best result was a fourth-place finish in the 400 m. In 2008 in Beijing, he advanced to the semifinals of the 400m.

Mathieson says one of his biggest challenges is finding a balance between sports and real life. He thinks his best competition moment was in 2008 when he broke the T54 100 metre Canadian record while qualifying for Beijing.

A regular on the international scene, Mathieson also has raced at four IPC World Championships, and was part of the 4x400m team that won bronze at the 2011 IPC World Championships in Christchurch, NZL.

Mathieson has been awarded the City of Winnipeg Gold Coin of Excellence and the Order of Sport Excellence.

Virginia McLachlan

 @vmclachlan2012

Virginia McLachlan was introduced to track and field in attempts to make her therapy more enjoyable. Her success can be attributed to her love for the sport and dedication of countless hours to honing her skills on the track. McLachlan was born with cerebral palsy. She says sport has improved her confidence while making her a better person and athlete. London 2012 will be McLachlan's first Paralympic appearance.

McLachlan's first international event was the 2011 IPC World Championships in Christchurch, New Zealand, where she competed in the long jump. At the 2011 Parapan American Games in Guadalajara, Mexico, she won silver medals in the 100m and 200 m. She is the current T35 Canadian record holder in the 100m and 200m.

Nicknamed Weezy, McLachlan says one of her favourite sport moments was the world championship opening ceremony. She can only imagine the experience she will have heading to London this summer.

McLachlan is looking forward to the fall when she will be attending the University of Windsor. In her spare time she enjoys writing and playing with her dog Karma.

Alister McQueen

Alister McQueen truly believes that representing Canada as an athlete is an honour. He will be competing in his first Paralympic Games in London. McQueen was nine months old when he lost his leg to congenital birth defects. He was first introduced to track and field in high school on an integrated team and has been an active national team member since 2008.

McQueen competed in his first Parapan American Games in 2011 in Guadalajara, Mexico, where he won bronze in the 200m and javelin.

McQueen won the 100 and 200 metres at the 2012 Canadian Track and Field Trials in Calgary, setting Canadian records in the process. He is the current Canadian amputee record holder in the T44 100m, 200m and Javelin.

Competitive spirit and dedication to improvement drive McQueen and fuel his success on the track.

McQueen is the amputee runner featured in the award-winning Canadian Paralympic Committee video, "Unstoppable."

Kyle Pettey

London will be Kyle Pettey's fourth Paralympic Games. Pettey won a silver medal in shot put and discus at the 2000 Paralympics in Sydney. He added a shot put bronze in 2008 in Beijing.

Pettey made history when he became the first Canadian Paralympic thrower to win a gold medal in shot put at the 2010 Commonwealth Games, which includes some events for athletes with a disability. His throw broke his own world record at the time.

The athlete with cerebral palsy grew up on a farm in Campbellford, Ont., and started track and field at age 12. His parents built a throwing circle in the yard to help him practice.

Pettey lives and trains in Brampton, where he balances training, working full time, and being a new father to his daughter Lily.

Leah Robinson

At age 14, Leah Robinson was the youngest member of the Canadian team at the Beijing 2008 Paralympic Games. She finished 10th in the 200m and 11th in the 100m. Thrilled to be representing her country again in London, Robinson calls the opportunity to represent Canada an “immense privilege,” and starts each and every day with a passion to learn, improve herself and have fun.

At the 2011 IPC World Championships in Christchurch, NZL, Robinson was fifth in the 400 metres. She won the 200 and 400 metres at the 2012 Canadian Track and Field Trials in Calgary.

Robinson, who has cerebral palsy, first heard about para-athletics at an awards banquet when she was 11 years old. She made the national team in 2008 and early in her career became the Canadian record holder in the 100m, 400m, 800m and 1,500m. In 2012, Robinson broke her own Canadian record for the T37 400m in qualifying for the Paralympic Team.

Friends and family are very important to Robinson. She credits her parents for teaching her to stay humble. Robinson plans to attend university for nursing after the London Paralympics.

Diane Roy

Persistence and dedication have made Diane Roy one of Canada's top international stars in wheelchair racing. She is headed to her fifth Paralympic Games in London. Roy won a silver and two bronze medals in Beijing in 2008 and two bronze in Athens in 2004.

The biggest influence in her career has been André Viger, who was a trailblazer not only for wheelchair racing but the entire Paralympic sport movement back in the 1970s, 1980s and 1990s. For the past 19 years, she has also been coached by Jean Laroche, one of the most respected coaches in the world in wheelchair sports.

Roy trains six days a week at the Club d'athlétisme in Sherbrooke, Que. She's been named the Eastern Townships' athlete of the year six times. She is the current Canadian Record holder in the T54 1500m, 5000m and Marathon

Roy became a paraplegic in 1988 at age 17 when she fell off her ATV. Sports had always been a part of her life, even before her accident. She played competitive handball in high school and now she water skies, downhill skies and plays sledge hockey.

Roy is a featured athlete in the Canadian Paralympic Committee's Super Athletes marketing campaign and has been given the nickname, "The Warhorse."

Michelle Stilwell

 @mikeystilwell

Wheelchair racer Michelle Stilwell heads to London for her third Paralympic Games.

Stilwell was a member of the wheelchair basketball team that won gold at the 2000 Paralympics in Sydney, the first female quadriplegic to do so. Complications to her spinal cord injury forced her to switch sports after Sydney. Stilwell took up wheelchair racing and at the Beijing 2008 Paralympics, won the 100 and 200-metre races in Games' record times.

In 2012 Stilwell set world records in the 100m and 200m at the Swiss Series in Nottwil, Switzerland and set the 400m world record at the Sydney Track Classic in Sydney, Australia. She is the current Canadian and world record holder in the T52 100m and 200m.

At the 2011 IPC World Championships in New Zealand, Stilwell won three gold and a silver, and lowered the world mark in the 200 metres. She was Canada's flag-bearer in the opening ceremonies.

Stilwell became a quadriplegic at age 17 when she fell from a friend's back while piggyback riding. A natural athlete, she always knew she would get back into sports, just in a different way.

The mother of one was named Sport B.C.'s Athlete with a Disability of the Year for the third time in 2012. She also is an ambassador for ActNow BC and the Rick Hansen Foundation.

Stilwell is a featured athlete in the Canadian Paralympic Committee's Super Athletes marketing campaign and has been given the nickname, "The Mastermind."

Curtis Thom

 @wheelzontheline

Wheelchair racer Curtis Thom is heading to his second Paralympic Games after winning the 100m, 200m and 400m races at the 2012 Canadian Track and Field Trials in Calgary. Thom is known for his tenacity, dedication and focus.

Thom recently moved from his hometown of Mississauga, ON to Ottawa, ON to train with his coach Bob Schrader on a full time basis. He will never forget the basics that his father and first coach taught him. The time he has spent working in this full-time training environment, including the addition of a strength coach, has proved successful as he set a new Canadian Record in the T54 400m earlier this year.

Thom was seventh in the 200m at the 2011 IPC World Championships in Christchurch, NZL, and part of the 4x 100 team that placed fourth at the Athens 2004 Paralympic Games.

The Ontario Wheelchair Sports Association athlete of the year in 2001, 2002 and 2003, Thom also won the 2003 Athlete of the Year award for the city of Mississauga.

Dustin Walsh, who was left blind at birth by glaucoma, will be competing in London in his third Paralympic Games. His best finish was at the Athens 2004 Paralympics, where he placed fifth in the T11 400m race. At the Beijing 2008 Paralympics, Walsh was 11th in the 400 metres.

At the 2011 IPC World Championships in Christchurch, NZL, Walsh was fourth in the 400m and 4x100m relay. He won the 400m and was third in the 100m at the 2012 Canadian Track and Field Trials in Calgary.

Nicknamed Dusty, Walsh trains six days a week. He says sport allows him to challenge himself on a daily basis.

Walsh, who won a B.C. Premier's Award for amateur sports, is also an accomplished drummer.

Dylan Williamson

Guide runner for Dustin Walsh

The first time Dylan Williamson watched Dustin Walsh run with his previous guide, he was amazed at the synchronicity between the two men. Williamson instantly set a goal of reaching the same level of cohesion with Walsh.

Williamson ran track and also played basketball in high school. He believes sport gives people opportunities to be inspired and work toward a goal.

In his spare time Williamson enjoys reading, doing recreational sports and camping with friends and family.

Sean Young

Guide runner for Jonathan Dunkerley

Growing up on a farm in Peterborough, Ontario, Sean Young developed a strong work ethic that is now applied to his everyday life. His limitless energy and enthusiasm led him to excel on the track in mid-distances with the University of Ottawa.

In early 2006 Young was approached by a coach at the Ottawa Lions to guide a visually impaired athlete, Jon Dunkerley. A natural leader and inspiration to fellow teammates, guiding seemed like a good fit for Young. Moreover, he considers the opportunity to represent Canada as an athlete to be a tremendous honour.

London will be Young's second Paralympics.

Young has an Honours Degree in Sciences from the University of Ottawa. His passion for sports and fitness had lead him owning his own strength and conditioning gym. Young is now a strength coach for many Ottawa based athletes, including fellow Paralympian Curtis Thom.

He lives in Stittsville, Ont., with his wife Corissa.

PARA-ATHLETICS CLASSIFICATIONS

T = Track Events

F= Field Events

Visually Impaired

T/F 11: No light perception in either eye, inability to recognize the shape of a hand at any distance or in any direction.

T/F 12: From the ability to recognize the shape of a hand up to visual acuity of 20/600 in the best eye with best correction.

T/F 13: From visual acuity above 20/600 up to visual acuity of 20/200 in the best eye with best correction.

Elite Athlete with Intellectual Disability

T/F 20: IQ of 75 and lower on standard tests, prior to 18 yrs. Significant limitations in adaptive behavior as expressed in conceptual, social, and practical adaptive skills.

Cerebral Palsy using Wheelchairs

T/F 31: Wheelchair-user with poor functional strength in all extremities and trunk, but able to propel a wheelchair.

T/F 32: Similar to a T31, but with a slightly greater degree of strength in trunk and extremities.

T/F 33: Wheelchair-user with close to full strength in upper extremities.

T/F 34: Wheelchair-user with good functional strength with minimal control problems in upper limbs and trunk.

Ambulant Cerebral Palsy

T/F 35: Individual may require the use of assistive devices in walking, but not necessarily when standing or throwing.

T/F 36: All four limbs usually show functional involvement in sports movements, better functional control on dominant side.

T/F 37: Able to walk without assistive devices but may limp, good functional ability in dominant side of body.

T/F 38: Minimally affected, must have diagnosis of CP or other non-progressive brain damage with locomotor dysfunction.

Amputee Athletes

T/F 40: Short stature, Achondroplasia or like conditions –maximum height of 145cm for males and 137cm for females

T/F 42: One leg amputated above the knee, or a combination of amputations of the upper and lower extremities.

T/F 43: Both legs amputated below the knee or a combination of amputations of the upper and lower extremities.

T/F 44: One leg amputated below the knee, athletes with limited functioning in at least two extremities, or a combination of amputations of the upper and lower extremities.

T/F 45: Double-arm amputee, either above or below the elbow joint.

T/F 46: Single-arm amputee or athlete with limited functioning of two or more extremities.

Athletes Using Wheelchairs

T/F 50: Quadriplegic or poor functional strength in all extremities and trunk, but able to propel a wheelchair.

T/F 51: Spinal cord injury involving all four limbs.

T/F 52: Spinal cord injury involving trunk and lower extremities; no sitting balance.

T/F 53: Spinal cord injury involving abdomen and lower extremities; slight capacity to maintain independent sitting balance.

T/F 54: Involving lower extremities; good sitting balance. Spinal Cord Injury and Amputee

F 55: Spinal Cord Injury and Amputee involving lower extremities; good sitting balance, and good abdominal muscles.

F 56: Spinal Cord Injury and Amputee involving lower extremities: moderate hip function, some below the knee function; good balance and movements backwards and forwards.

F 57: Spinal Cord Injury with mobility in the legs; can rise from sitting to a standing position with assistance during the throw.

F 58: Spinal Cord Injury with higher function in than F57, must meet minimal disability criteria.

Note: Presently, in most sports, the functional classification system is being utilized. This system ensures that all athletes in the same class have similar levels of functionality in areas such as range motion, coordination and balance. According to this system, athletes with different types of disabilities can compete against each other if they have comparable levels of function.

CLASSIFICATIONS DU PARA-ATHLÉTISME

T = Épreuves de piste (Track)

F= Épreuves de concours (Field)

Athlètes ayant une déficience visuelle

T/F 11 : Aucune perception de lumière dans les deux yeux, incapacité de reconnaître la forme d'une main à n'importe quelle distance et dans n'importe quelle direction.

T/F 12 : À partir d'une capacité de reconnaître la forme d'une main jusqu'à une acuité visuelle de 20/600 dans le meilleur œil, avec la meilleure correction.

T/F 13 : À partir d'une acuité visuelle au-dessus de 20/600 jusqu'à une acuité visuelle de 20/200 dans le meilleur œil avec la meilleure correction.

Athlètes d'élite ayant un handicap intellectuel

T/F 20 : QI de 75 et moins aux tests normaux, avant 18 ans. Limites significatives du comportement adaptatif, tel qu'exprimé par les habiletés d'adaptation conceptuelle, sociale et pratique.

Athlètes en fauteuil roulant atteints de paralysie cérébrale

T/F 31 : Athlète en fauteuil roulant avec une faible force fonctionnelle dans toutes les extrémités et le tronc, mais capable de propulser une chaise roulante.

T/F 32 : Semblable à T31, mais avec un degré de force légèrement plus grand dans le tronc et les extrémités.

T/F 33 : Athlète en fauteuil roulant avec une force presque complète dans les extrémités du haut du corps.

T/F 34 : Athlète en fauteuil roulant avec bonne force fonctionnelle et un minimum de problèmes de contrôle dans le tronc et les membres du haut du corps.

Athlètes ambulants atteints de paralysie cérébrale

T/F 35 : L'individu peut nécessiter l'utilisation d'un appareil fonctionnel pour marcher, mais pas nécessairement pour se tenir debout ou lancer.

T/F 36 : Les quatre membres montrent normalement une implication fonctionnelle dans les mouvements sportifs, meilleur contrôle fonctionnel sur le côté dominant.

T/F 37 : Capable de marcher sans appareil fonctionnel, mais peut boiter, bonne capacité fonctionnelle sur le côté dominant du corps.

T/F 38 : Minimale affecté, doit avoir un diagnostic de PC ou d'un autre dommage non-progressif du cerveau avec handicap locomoteur.

Athlètes amputés

T/F 40 : Petite taille, achondroplasie ou un état semblable – hauteur maximale de 145 cm pour les hommes et 137 cm pour les femmes

T/F 42 : Une jambe amputée au-dessus du genou, ou une combinaison d'amputations des extrémités du haut et du bas du corps.

T/F 43 : Deux jambes amputées au-dessous du genou ou une combinaison d'amputations des extrémités du haut et du bas du corps.

T/F 44 : Une jambe amputée au-dessous du genou, athlètes avec des fonctions limitées dans au moins deux extrémités, ou avec une combinaison d'amputations des extrémités du haut et du bas du corps.

T/F 45 : Amputé des deux bras, au-dessus ou au-dessous du joint du coude.

T/F 46 : Amputé d'un bras, ou athlète avec des fonctions limitées dans deux extrémités ou plus.

CLASSIFICATIONS DU PARA-ATHLÉTISME

Athlètes utilisant un fauteuil roulant

T/F 50 : Quadriplégique ou faible force fonctionnelle dans toutes les extrémités et le tronc, mais capable de propulser une chaise roulante.

T/F 51 : Traumatisme médullaire impliquant les quatre membres.

T/F 52 : Traumatisme médullaire impliquant le tronc et les extrémités du bas du corps; aucun équilibre assis.

T/F 53 : Traumatisme médullaire impliquant l'abdomen et les extrémités du bas du corps; légère capacité de maintenir indépendamment un équilibre assis.

T/F 54 : Traumatisme médullaire et amputation impliquant les extrémités du bas du corps; bon équilibre assis.

F 55 : Traumatisme médullaire et amputation impliquant les extrémités du bas du corps; bon équilibre assis, et bons muscles abdominaux.

F 56 : Traumatisme médullaire et amputation impliquant les extrémités du bas du corps: fonction modéré des hanches, quelques fonctions au-dessous du genou; bon équilibre et mouvements vers l'avant et l'arrière. .

F 57 : Traumatisme médullaire avec mobilité des jambes; peut se lever en position debout à partir d'une position assise, avec de l'aide, durant le lancer.

F 58 : Traumatisme médullaire avec fonctions supérieures à F57, doit répondre aux critères d'handicap minimal.

Remarque : Présentement, dans la plupart des sports, le système de classification des fonctions est utilisé. Ce système assure que tous les athlètes de la même classe possèdent des niveaux semblables de fonctionnalité dans les domaines tels que l'amplitude des mouvements, la coordination et l'équilibre. Selon ce système, les athlètes avec différents types d'handicap peuvent concourir les uns contre les autres s'ils ont des niveaux fonctionnels comparables.
